more respectable countrymen.

The ability of a highbinder to levy depends on his reputation for bravery, so they do not murder secretly, but openly on the streets. If they are caught and punished by law they are regarded as martyrs. If they escape, as they generally do, they are heroes. The present highbinder war was caused by one society encroaching upon another's preserves. Accordingly one of the poachers was shot as a warning to the others. He was not killed, but so seriously wounded that his society had to have a life from the other side. According to high-binder ethics when a member of the society is killed his death must be avenged by the killing of some one else. The society whose man had been wounded therefore killed one of their rivals and thought they had avenged matters, but the others thought differently. They had merely wounded the man while one of their number was killed, so they killed one of their number was a fair prospect for both societies to become exterminated, but the danger to innocent people in Chinatown from the flying bullets became so great that the police took a hand. One of the highbinders was caught red handed after committing the last murder and nine others have been arrested on suspicion and have been indicted by the grand jury for murder. Usually it is extremely difficult to convict Chinese of crime unless they are caught in the act or the crime is witnessed by whites.

manner now hoot and jeer at the discomfited highbinder as he is propelled from the vigorous toe of a policeman.

The consul general has united with the chief of police in his efforts to crush the highbinders. The Chinese consul general is much in favor of the Chinese method dealing with these wretches. In China a highbinder is decapitated when caught, and if he escapes and refuses to surrender all of his nearest relatives have their heads cut off. The consul general is so much in earnest about the recent killing that he is about to recommend to his government that the relatives in China of all known San Francisco highbinders be treated in the manner above stated. All proclamations to Chinatown, unless they hear the consul's stamp, will be taken down and thus the highbinder method of terrorizing will be cut off. Many Chinese thugs were arrested as vagrants, and the police courts will not accept Chinese bondsmen unless the bonds are approved by the consul general. The highbinders are now very meek and the police intend to keep them so, maintaining constant espionage over the Chinese quarter and keeping it cleared of the highbinder about the recent killing that he is able to appear.

Allen Thomas, the victim, also a colored man, is under treatment in the Emergency Hospital. The alleged murderons assault occurred last evening near the corner of Rhode Island avenue and 7th street. They had started a discussion in a barber shop about office seekers, and Thomas remarked that some of the offices seekers would be carrying a hod before they would fill an office.

Stewart evidently thought that Thomas was becoming too personal and a row started in the barber shop was finished on the sidewalk. Thomas received a cut from the top of his head to his neck, and when Officer Geoghan made the arrest he got possession of the knife with which the injury was inflicted.

The case will be heard when the injured man is able to appear.

THREE ARMY VACANCIES.

There are three vacancies in the army that will probably be filled within the next month. They are among the most desirable billets in much contention. The first in order of prominence is that of brigadier general, vacated by the compulsory retirement of Gen. Carr; the next in order is that of paymester with the rank of major and the third is that of quartermaster with the rank of captain.

ALL THE ELIGIBLES CANDIDATES. The candidates for the brigadier generalshi include practically all the eligibles in the army, and their name is legion. The senior regimental commander, who is also the senior colonel in the army, is Col. W. R. Shafter, first infantry. He does not retire until 1889. Next in rank and the second highest colonel on the active list is Col. E. S. Otis, twentieth infantry, the officer nominated to the office by President Harrison, but whose nomination failed with the adjournment of Congress. He does not retire until 1902.

Third in rank comes Col. Wm. P. Carlin, fourth infantry, who has a much longer service than either of the two already mentioned, but is junior to them in the list of colonels. He was appointed a callet at West Point in 1846 and will retire on account of age next November. include practically all the eligibles in the army,

The next five coloneis in order of rank are

The next five colonels in order of rank are Col. M. M. Blunt, sixteenth infantry, who retires next year Col. P. J. Swaine, twenty-second infantry, who retires in 1895; Col. H. C. Merriam, seventh infantry, who retires in 1901; Col. Z. R. Bliss, twenty-fourth infantry, who retires in 1899, and Col. J. W. Forsyth, seventh cavalry, who retires in 1898. Col. H. W. Closson, fourth artillery, is the senior colonel of artillery, but is further down on the relative rank list than those before mentioned.

While there is no certainty in the matter it is reasonable to believe that one of the officers above named will receive the promotion, unless the President shall decide to waive the matter of seniority altogether, in which event Col. John M. Wilson of the engineer corps is regarded as standing the best chance of getting the office. The above speculations are made on information received from semi-official sources that the President is not disposed to fill the vacancy by granting the application of Gen. Carr for restoration to the active list. There is a precedent for this in the case of Gen. Brice, who was retired by President Johnson and restored to the active list by President Grant, but it has never been followed since that time.

THE OTHER VACANCIES. The vacancy in the pay corps is, if possible sought for by more persons than that in the list of brigadiers. This is due principally to the fact that it is open to civilians. Lieut. Dapray was nominated to this office by Presi-dent Harrison, but, like Col. Otis, he too failed of confirmation. It is regarded as one of the best births in the army. The other vacancy—that of quartermaster—while not quite so good from a financial standpoint, is sufficiently desirable to attract a host of applicants, and Secretary Lamont will have a good deal of trouble in filling it without discensive. and Mrs. Rebecca Mulholiand, a widow aged fifty-five years, who lived alone in the house, in filling it without dissension.

There is the best authority for saying that no action will be taken toward filling these va-cancies for two or three weeks yet. The ap-pointments will determine many questions of interest to the army as indicating the policy of the administration in such matters.

TESTING THE LIQUOR LAW. The Case of Bush Goes Over Till Tom Interest in the Result.

The trial of Henry Bush, manager of the Banner Brewing Company of Cincinnati, on a charge of conducting his bar in alleged violation of the new liquor law, although he has a license under the old law, attracted many keepers of saloons to the Police Court this morning. The call an extra session of the legislature if John case had been set for today, but when it was B. Allen is not seated by the United States earned that there were so many other cases on the docket the judge thought the case would have to go over until tomorrow.

Mr. Pugh said he thought the hearing would last several hours. He understood that all the saloonkeepers in the city had been summoned for the defense and the argument would also See Francisco Letter.

Never since the Chinese first came to the Pacific coast have the San Francisco people been so energetic in their efforts to suppress the highbinders and their methods as now. This action was brought about by the fact that within the last tan days three Chinese have the license, and the renewal will have to be delph, first assistant general freight agent of the defense and the argument would also consume some time.

Under the circumstances the judge said he would let the case go over until tomorrow, and it would be the only jury trial heard.

The decision is of great interest to the saloon men because if Mr. Pugh is sustained in his position that the present licenses under the old law do not hold good it means a renewal of the license, and the renewal will have to be delph, first assistant general freight agent of

On the side of the liquor men it is believed that the decision will be favorable to them. They claim that section 17 of the naw act settles the question by stating that all applicants having a license during the preceding year shall apply for a renewal of such license on or before the 1st day of November.

Collectors' Commissions to Expire. During the balance of the present month the commissions of the the collectors of customs at the following ports will expire: Bath, Me. March 28 (paid by fees); Houlton, Me., March 29 ($1,000 and commissions); Grand Haven, Mich., March 29 ($1,000 and fees); St. Paul, Minn., March 28 ($2,500); Fort Benton, Mont., March 28 ($2,500). Appraiserships will also fall vacant by expiration of commissions at Philadelphia, Pa., March 23 (salary $3,000), and at Portland, Org., March 23 (salary $3,000).

The Alexander in the Bering Sea.

No information has been received at the State banded after committing the last murder and nine others have been arrested on suspicion and have been indicted by the grand jury for murder. Usually it is extremely difficult to convict Chinese of crime unless they are caught in the act or the crime is witnessed by whites.

The folice are active.

This time the police have adopted new tactics. They realize that if a highbinder is pulled down from his pedestal as a bad man in the eyes of his countrymen his power will be gone. Accordingly the police have been constantly raiding Chinatown the past few days, and every known highbinder and those whose looks proclaim them such are searched for arms, and if none are found they are kicked and cuffed and clubbed until they disappear from sight. Their meeting places are invaded, their idols destroyed and everything done to humiliate them. As a result of this policy Chinese laborers and merchants who at first looked with horror at the police daring to treat the warriors in such a manufacture of the stander for the Bering sea sealing ground, as reported from San Francisco. The statement "that it is believed that the Alexander will trade liquor for skins along the shores of Bering sea, and that before the patrol fleet starts north she will make a dash for the rookeries, overpower the small guard on the islands and then slip south with a full cargo of skins." If true means that the vessel will engage in a scheme of robbery on the high seas which comes dangerously and punishes with death. There is reluctance on the part of State Department officials, therefore, to believe the report in full.
